ENRF STAKEHOLDER & POLICY MAPPING

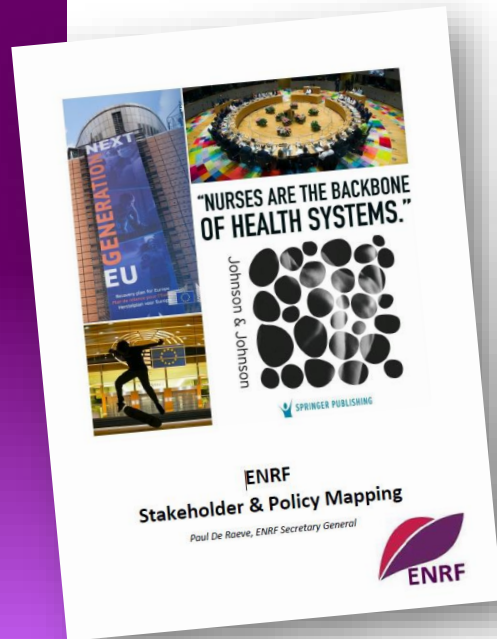

The ENRF has been developing a stakeholders' & policy mapping (on topic Digitalisation) to help analyse, understand, and create effective strategies to promote ENRF SORP and Policy Briefs, providing an analysis of the policy actors, networks and funding agendas in order to influence research policy and support EFN work.

As a starting point in this process of networking at EU level, the ENRF has been networking and meeting people from the European Health Parliament (a movement connecting and empowering the next generation of European health leaders to rethink EU health policies – constitute by a group of 60 young professionals).

EHP STAKEHOLDER & POLICY MAPPING

Stakeholder – European Health Parliament	Objectives	Interests	Influence	Potential
Every year, the European Health Parliament (EHP) selects 60 talented young healthcare professionals from all over the EU to help shape a healthier and more innovative Europe by developing disruptive and actionable policy recommendations. Joining EHP is a unique experience. It enables members to sharpen their leadership skills and gain real-world experience while partnering with key stakeholders to make an impact on health policy. https://www.healthparliament.eu/ 	The EHP wants to achieve two objectives. First, the EHP wants to prepare the next generation of health leaders so they are equipped to drive policy changes in Europe. EHP members gain practical experience through their interaction with stakeholders, both at plenary sessions and through their committee activities and recommendations. They are also offered a series of training sessions. Moreover, the EHP connects new EHP cohorts with the alumni community and with key stakeholders in the field of health, enabling them to continue to lead once their year with the EHP has ended. Second, by empowering this community of talented young professionals, the EHP wants to provide disruptive recommendations for EU health policy. Europe's health systems are under significant pressure to evolve in a changing environment and in need of valuable, actionable and innovative policy.]	The EHP is European because it seeks to provide solutions to European health issues. The drafted recommendations are primarily designed for policymakers at the European level, though they could also be used to address these issues at a national level. The EHP focusses on health issues because Europe's health systems are under pressure to evolve. Being healthy is a concern to everyone, and it is therefore important that our health systems are up to the job. The EHP considers itself a parliament because its members come together to deliberate the future of European health policy. Through the work of five committees and meetings with stakeholders, EHP members develop policy recommendations that are presented to policymakers. Neither elected nor representing a political party, EHP members are selected for their contribution to, and potential to lead in, European health policy. They also represent the voice of the young generation, who stand to use more health services as they age. Their partners are: Johnson & Johnson; EPF; EU40; College of Europe; PN Ketchum Public Affairs; Mavence; Euronews; Young European Leadership (YEL); European Health Futures Forum	Key to influence the writing of the Workgroup recommendation: AMR & PDR to meet:  Cidália Eusébio &  Milena Krasinska-Chavez Both nurses & working in London  President European Parliament : Eleonora Vartoumian (EONS)  WG Digital Health Transition and Governance – Amélie de Martini - Policy Officer chez European Cancer Organisation & European Association of Nuclear Medicine – After several requests, not willing to meet. Is also very closed to the other WG lead, not sharing and materials!  Therefore, took initiative to contact the vice-chair: Dr Henrik Sliwka, MD at Janssen Europe (EMEA) – Key information: "Nursing is close to my	ENRF potential impact on EHP Possible impact on EU developments (European Commission & European Parliament) ENRF can play a facilitating role towards EP (Public Hearing) and EC (Webinar). Meeting 18.02.2022 (Anne Marie), Paul and Cidalia – Cidalia has control over WG lead Norbert Couespel – Cidalia will use ENRF PB and EFN PS – Cidalia very strategic: focus on 3 priorities and crosscutting bringing in workforce. Meeting 25.02.2022 Anne Marie, Paul and Eleonora - Eleonora presented the EHP and its activities and focus. Each year the EHP convenes a diverse group of 60 young professionals representing all healthcare sectors for a 1-year mandate. They believe that the solutions must come from the young European health leaders who influence the policies that will ultimately concern their generation as they age. Their organisations do not interfere in their work, but they bring with them their experience and expertise in key subjects & domains.

HEALTH & RESEARCH EU AGENDA

European Federation of Nurses Associations
The Nurses' Voice

To ensure that nurse researchers and the EFN Members are prepared for the new Horizon Europe calls, namely under “Cluster Health”, ENRF continues to participate in meetings at EU level, and to inform the EFN Members & the ENRF Reference Points through its Briefing Notes, as: Horizon Europe Lump Sum \(02/02/2022\)

ENRF REFERENCE POINTS (1)

ENRF Aim = foster the dialogue between researchers, practitioners and policy-makers/politicians, to build a common research capacity.

Close collaboration gives benefits to both parties:

- ✓ Gives the ENRF a link to all EU Members States strengthening the ENRF capacity to support EFN EU policy work,
- ✓ The national reference points get more visibility at European level and as such increase their research potential to respond to the main health issues in Europe. The National Reference Points also have opportunities to collaborate on research bids with colleagues across Europe: the ENRF becoming a facilitator for research, not a competitor.

ENRF REFERENCE POINTS (2)

Building an internal nursing research reference points network is key to show to the EU Institutions that the ENRF is a strong network of individual nursing researchers, appointed by the National Nurses Associations, bringing in their independent research and innovation ideas and views into the ENRF and as such influence the European Commission Research and Innovation Agenda

→ Therefore, it is key that the EFN Members provide more reference points/nurse researchers per country on specific topic linked to the ENRF Policy Briefs (e.g. APN, Digitalisation, Planetary Health, violence against women, etc...).
